

Oct. 1, 2018

PIKES PEAK WORKSHOP

On-Line Application

Pikes Peak helps define the unique character and location of Colorado College; get paid to be part of celebrating and extending that legacy. Targeted research projects through the Pikes Peak Workshop aim to enhance the focus of the college, its students, faculty, courses and extra-curricular programs on the Pikes Peak region. Form a team of 2 to 4 students to address one of the below topics. Teams will be paid $500/student to complete their projects through a research grant from the Edmundson Foundation. It is a chance to go several steps beyond theoretical, conceptual classroom work to develop and deliver products of use to an evolving public-private management approach. Note: you may apply for more than one topic if you wish though you must create separate applications for each. Applications will start to be evaluated Oct. 11, 2018. For more information and questions: contact Lily Weissgold: l_weissgold@coloradocollege.edu or Prof. Emeritus Walt Hecox: whecox@coloradocollege.edu

Today's Date:

Topic of application (check one):

- Ring the Peak Hut System
- Bridging the Ring the Peak Gap
- Investigation of Public/Private Land Management Models
- Region Wide Parks/Attractions Passport
- History of Colorado College's Involvement in the Pikes Peak Region

Team Members (name, pronouns, email, intended major/minor)

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.

How is the potential of your team amplified by its members?

How will your approach build on what your team has found is already occurring in the region regarding your project? How will it incorporate similar projects throughout the nation and the state?

Monthly timeline of your proposal (Teams must finish work, submit final report by end of Spring Break: first day of Blk 7 March 25, 2019)

Please list some primary and secondary sources and stakeholders you think will be of benefit to your project.